

The Society's membership depends on receiving notices via email. It is a member benefit to receive meeting notices and important pieces of information in the most expeditious way possible. they receive the information directly and timely. To require a signature in order to provide what they see is a benefit negates the usefulness of the communication tool and increases their cost of doing business.

Dianne Meister, Society Administrator